2007.08.30 Declaration of David Zollweg.doc

Dave,

Our attorney would like you to sign the attached declaration, if you feel comfortable with it. There's some question of service on Natacha for our latest lawsuit. Does the description match our suspect? We need it for court next week.

Subject: Sesko visit

On August 6th of this year I did a joint visit with Michael Drew of our Water Quality program to the Sesko property. The complaint was for trash, garbage, bulky junk storage and people living in trailers.

As we entered the property and approached a camper trailer in the front center of the property, we were met by a man exiting the camper dressed only in shorts that identified himself as (b)(6). He says he is also known as (b)(6) because of his close ties to the family. We explained why we were there and the concerns we had about the property. I asked him what we can do to help him get the place "cleaned up"? His response was I could start by going and Fing myself. We talked about how alot of the debris and waste on the property was recyclable and we had people that could help remove it. (b)(6) said they could go and F themselves. He didn't see why they should make a profit from the materials there. He started on a "rant" about how "this is their property (the Sesko's) and their possessions and equipment and it's too damn bad that people don't like it". I asked about the history of past clean up contacts and he called the Bremerton City folks a few choice names because of past efforts by them. I explained we usually work in agreement with the city on properties in the city limits. That is when your name came up along with the admonition you could also go and F yourself.

I left the property knowing that self clean up policies would not apply here.

We believe the camper trailer is being lived in. The smells of old food, dirty dishes, ammonia from urine and dirty unwashed, stale dried sweat aroma wafted out of the camper. We saw no glaring evidence of their sanity means and disposal methods but did not have the opportunity or permission to look at the property in full.

After discussing this case with you and learning of the actions being taken by the City, we have not actively pursued the complaint.

Please call if you have questions of our visit.
